Josua Conivanua is the man in the front with the green shirt. He is an evangelist in Fiji and graduate of SPBC. He has a family with 5 children, 4 girls and one son who is adopted. He is a very dynamic preacher and evangelist. He teaches in several home Churches and has planted many of these Churches himself. One of the churches has 20 members and children and the other church has 8 members and their children. They meet in rotation to make sure everyone knows what is going on in each home. He teaches in other villages different books from the Bible. Josua is a village preacher traveling from small village to small village as the disciples did in the New Testament. He is considered by some in the villages to have special gifts but Josua will tell you quickly where the power comes from the cross. His passion for the lost and the sacrifices he is willing to make for the spread of the gospel could be a lesson to us all.
